There's also Collection Creator - a handy tool that lets you collate several pages, organize them, and export them together (again, in PDF format). It's a nice feature that enables you to customize your reading material, but it's a bit of a hassle, and is really designed

For creatures that don't have 2nd edition equivalents, either reskin an existing creature or just create a new creature inspired by the 3.5 version. The idea is to take the 3.5 material as the guide to what 2nd edition material to populate the adventure with. You can do pretty much the same with magic items.

Example 1: Billy the Elf is a Fighter/Mage/Thief with 250,000 XP, which makes him a F9/M10/T11 in AD&D 2nd Edition. According to the Conversion Chart, 10th level Mages, 9th level Fighters and 11th level thieves all get 255 points. So, we take the highest point value and multiply it times the number of classes
